LAST EDITION.

YESTERDAY'S FAILURE.

An Unimportant Suspension This Morning.

The Stock Market Firmer and Nearly Recovered.

NEW YORK, July 28.--The failure of the Commercial Warehouse Company is announced this morning. This company was an English concern and understood to have been mainly a project of the banking house of Duncan, Sherman & Co., and its suspension is but a part of yesterday's disaster.

The failure, therefore, had no perceptible effect on the market. Stocks of all kinds are firmer, and there is a general feeling that no other trouble need be anticipated.

New York, July 28.--Mr. Wm. Butte Duncan, in an interview published this morning, denies that while in Europe he made ineffectual efforts to secure financial aid, and he says arrangements have been made for the complete protection of Americans abroad who have letters of credit from the house.

He also denies that the Union Bank Company is a loser.

Interview with a number of leading bankers and others are published, and all agree that the failure of Duncan, Sherman & Co., will have no appreciable effect in financial circles. It is now understood that heavy speculations in cotton was the cause of the failure.

Signor Navarra, Mexican Consul, in a depository with Duncan, Sherman & Co. to the full amount of his private fortune, $80,000 or $70,000, and all the money he is believed to have.

LIVERPOOL, July 28.--Duncan, Sherman & Co.'s failure has lent little effect here. It is reported that their shipments of cotton will be protected.

LONDON, July 28.--The suspension of Duncan, Sherman & Co., has no appreciable effect on the general market here.

It is understood that their cotton speculations were made in connection with the house of Collyer & Co., the members of which have been in so much trouble here of late. Mr. Kitchell, of the latter firm, was also the London agent of Duncan, Sherman & Co.

NEW YORK, July 28.--The failure of Duncan, Sherman & Co., has no connection with the Stock Exchange, except, possibly, in the case of Panama, which stock the firm was understood to be interested in either for themselves or their friends. After the first excitement yesterday afternoon this fact became patent to operators generally, and hence the rally and improved tone of the market at the close. This failure is not likely to spread, and there is no fear entertained that any other houses will be dragged down.

The failure occurred during the panic of 1873 the case might have been different, but now business is conducted on a more conservative basis and the country financially is in a much better condition, with every prospect of abundant harvests, an active export demand for cereals and a good trade this fall. Money was abundant yesterday, although the rate for call loans advanced for a short time from 1 1/2 to 5 per cent.

The advance brought out liberal offerings of capital, and the closing business was at 3 3/4 per cent.

International Regatta.

I. C. Y. RACES ON LAKE ST. CLARE.

DETROIT, July 28.--The weather this morning is cloudy and there is a feeling of fear lest a rain shall come up in time to interfere with the races. At this hour there is an indication of clearing weather and the wind is blowing a safe breeze. The arrangements are most perfect, and strong hopes are entertained of a fine day's sport. The distance to be sailed is thirty miles, starting from Grosbe Point and sailing east by north seven miles, then north by west the same distance, thence to the Detroit river, keeping on the Canadian side of Belle Isle, and finishing opposite the Detroit boat club house.

The following yachts have entered: Annie Cuthbert, Alex. Cuthbert, Hamilton, Ont.
